

Intro:

Debifi is a non-custodial Bitcoin-backed lending platform that focuses on security and transparency through innovative multi-signature (multisig) escrow arrangements. Founded by Bitcoin industry leaders, including CEO Max Kei, it aims to set new standards in the space by offering an alternative to traditional lending with a focus on censorship resistance and user autonomy.

In essence, Debifi is a significant player in the evolving landscape of Bitcoin-backed financial services, offering a secure, transparent, and non-custodial solution for individuals and institutions seeking to leverage their Bitcoin holdings without selling them.

Description:

Debifi is a new player with a totally different approach than others, and with a goal to onboard institutions to Bitcoin lending. The goal of Debifi is to provide infrastructure for institutional lenders that have liquidity but don't have technical expertise to develop their own lending solution, as well as they don't have any potential users from the Bitcoin space.

Debifi solves two issues for liquidity providers: infrastructure and user base. The platform provides lenders with all needed tools and brings potential customers. In a way, Debifi is the first institutional P2P Bitcoin lending platform.

Objective one:

Create a short sales pitch deck (not more than 10 pages) that can be sent to potential lenders (as a first intro). Keep in mind that pitch deck should describe benefits of using the platform for institutional lenders in a simple and appealing way. However, it is also crucial to mention security aspects of the platform and innovative approaches that platform uses.

Objective two:

Make a short market research that will define customer groups (institutional lenders) that might find Debifi attractive and might become our lenders in the future. Define 3 to 5 main customer segments and describe why you think these are best choices.

Where to get information:

1. Debifi.com
2. AI agents (about Debifi)
3. Google
4. Twitter/X, LinkedIn
5. Media about Debifi, podcasts about Debifi
6. Surprise me

You can also send your questions to mk@debifi.com or request a conference call with Max (CEO).

Hints:

You need to explain why Bitcoin is super collateral to any lender first and then explain how they will make money by using Bitcoin lending.

Do not overcomplicate sales pitch with technical data, etc. Push for clear benefits and advantages.
